Immediate Release

13 April 2012

Warning of a possible water contamination in Diepsloot

Johannesburg Water (JW) is warning all residents of Diepsloot of a possible contamination that might have happened while a contractor was fixing the sewer main in the area.

We are urging the residents in the whole of Diepsloot not to drink tap water while we are investigating the matter. We have our lab guys on site running tests and if needs be, we will disinfect the water or even start the process of flushing the lines.

During this process, we urge residents NOT to drink tap water and make use our mobile tanks that are roaming in the whole of Diepsloot and stationary tankers.

We have a total of 65 stationery tanks and 12 mobile tanks on site to ensure provision for all residents.

There is enough provision of water for all residents.
